About 54 reasons

54 reasons is Australia's leading child rights organisation, proudly part of the Save the Children Australia Group and global movement. We're here to make sure that everyone understands their rights. So that children and young people have their rights met and thrive, in all their diversity.

We champion the children, young people and families we work with. We are inspired by the curiosity and creativity of children, and motivated by the love of those who care for them. With the child's voice at the centre, we provide quality services to children and their caregivers, advocating with them so that children develop, learn, and are connected, safe and confident.

Our people are proudly local, and as diverse as the communities we serve - in every state and territory, and across regions, remote areas and capital cities. With operations in every state and the NT, our services span the early years and school engagement, youth justice, domestic and family violence and family support, and our practice is grounded in child rights and participation.

Role Purpose

54 reasons is an organisation that operates accommodation and support services, providing safe and supportive environments for women and children escaping domestic and family violence. We recognise that domestic and family violence is a systemic issue and that violence by one person against another is unacceptable. 54 reasons recognises the particular impact of witnessing and experiencing domestic and family violence on children and young people. It is for this reason that we employ a specific staff member to observe, assess and meet the needs of children and young people.

As a child rights organisation, 54 reasons is committed to protecting children. Working for 54 reasons means that you are accepting a special responsibility for safeguarding children's rights and respecting those rights in all positions, decisions and actions. Our work is underpinned by the United Nations' Convention on the Rights of the Child which states that children should be protected from all forms of physical and mental violence, injury, abuse, neglect, maltreatment and exploitation, including sexual abuse.

The role of the Child Support Specialist within the Domestic and Family Violence programs at 54 reasons is to uphold the rights of children and young people, acknowledging them as individuals with agency and clients in their own right. We adopt a strengths-based approach and support their connection to family, community and culture. 54 reasons operates from a child-centered philosophy which is underpinned by theoretical knowledge and understanding of child development, attachment and trauma informed practice.
